THE New York 69th have decided to volunteer for the war. They will go out under the former Lieut. Colonel NUGENT. This gallant regiment of Irishmen, which fought so nobly on the bloody Sunday, at Bull's Run, will be heard from again during the war. Its record of bravery at Manassas, will re appear often, and on different fields will doubtless go forth from victory to victory. God bless these galiant Irishmen! Hon. Jonx G. Davis has sent, through a friend, to one of the editors of the Expuss. a card in reply to a communication, beretofore published in these columns. It is inserted at request of Mr. Davis, on the ground that all persons are entitled to reply to personal strictures.

We have repeatedly said that we were no responsible for the opinions, sentiments, arguments or language of correspondents, and are therefore at a loss to know why Mr Davis should intimate that the admission of a communication into our columns reflecting upon his course, implies any want of personal courtesy to him. The action of this paper towards him has been uniformly gentlemenly He chooses to keep himself constantly before the people advocating opinious upon the war question, with which we radically differ. As journalists we have commented upon themit may be severely-but certainly not in an ungentlemanly manner. We have even refrained from keeping pace with the "outside | that you will publish this note. pressure" of the community against him and his views. This much we care to say in reply to the implied charge of personal disre-

We merely add that we shall publish such communications and extracts as shall suit us, and cannot recognize any right of censorship over our columns. Without admiring the style of Mr. Davis' rejoinder to "Looker on" we give him the benefit of it.

Recruits. In the anxiety manifested, at the North, to fill up our army, it is to be apprehended that there may not in all cases be sufficient attention paid to the levalty of the men enlisted It is true that they are all put to the test of a solemn oath, and in so far as this may be a protection it is thrown around the enlistment of the soldier. Experience, however, shows that traitors do not scruple at perjury. The latter is a small part going to make up the greater crime. There are doubtle-s some disloyal men in our regular army and navy, yet left, who would, in a safe emergency, sell out their flag and their country's honor -Every precaution should be used by those recruiting for the service of the United States -either volunteer or regular-to enlist none but true and loval men. Secessionists, in disguise, have doubtless crept into the ranks of the Union soldiery, in some instances .-There is no estimating what harm one dishonest and disloyal private even may accomplish in the way of conveying intelligence to the enemy or the betrayal of plans, &c. Let our officials, who are raising companies look well to this thing. No recruit offering should be accepted and enrolled unless he is known, beyond peradventure to be loyal to the Government. This is a paramount consideration, and in the press for men should not be overlooked or forgotten. It is a war against traitors. They should be in front of the army and not crithin it.

The Union Men of Kentucky.

It seems that Tennesseans are coming over the line to Padacah, Kentucky, and seizing steamboats belonging to Union men. The telegraph a day or two since announced an outrage of this kind, in the seigure of the Evansville and Paducah packet. It is reported that this vessel, and cargo, was seized and for big carried up the Tennessee river. The net is said to have been aided by the Secondopists in Burnett's district .-The Union men of Kentucky cannot endure this sort or thing. The General Government and the citizens of all loyal States have | will help to while away the hours that seem the warmest sympathy for the true men of so long to me while in camp. Kentucky. They have been willing to avoided interfering with the policy or strategy of Union men in Kentucky. They have bid them God speed ! their own way. During the last two weeks there has been an increase of disease in the regiment, occasioned by incessant rains and damp quarters. No measles. The whole number taken into talent and judgment was at the head of the Hospital during this time, including four wounded men from Capt. Bracken's cavalry, is thirteen. Fox, from Vigo county, is still seriously ill with disease of his lungs. As cipline will henceforth be found in our army soon as he recovers sufficiently he will be sent home. The whole number in quarters who are reported unfit for active duty, is twenty-five, many of whom would spring to their guns if necessity required them to do so. On two or three occasions men have asked to be permitted to "go scouting," who had been in quarters several days. They seem anxious to get a peep and "a pop" at the

EDITOR OF THE EYPRESS Sir : In you DAILY EXPRESS, of vesterday, I observe a communication headed "John G. Davis a Secessionist, and Doing the work of a Tory and Spy," and signed, " A Looker On." I have always regarded you as a gentleman and treated you accordingly, and had a right to suppose that, notwithstanding our difference on the present war question, you would treat me as such; hence my amazement when I read in your columns, the communication alluded to.

Ordinarily I pay no attention to what may be said of me in the newspapers, for I cannot condescend to enter into a controversy with every scribler who may see proper to assail me through the columns of a newspaper; but I must be permitted so far to depart from this general rule, in this case, as to pronounce your correspondent (" A Looker On") a liar. scoundrel, coward and a pusillanimous puppy.

This is all the answer to his communication I propose to make; and with the request

I am, very respectfully, JNO. G. DAVIS.

CAMP SUMMET, CHEAT MOUNTAIN. August 18th, 1861, (

EDITORS EXPRESS: This has been an event ful day in camp. At six o'clock, P. M., yesterday, a scouting party, under command of Capt. Thompson, of the 14th, and Capt. Hill, of the 24th Ohio volunteers, left our Camp and proceeded east to the Green Brier river, eight miles in advance, with the view of procuring a reconnoissance of the enemy's position, if possible. At day light, this morning. they discovered the enemy's cavalry and in fantry in considerable force, distant only about one hundred and fifty yards. Our men immediately commenced the attack upon a one hour , drove them inside of their own lines-killing seven and wounding a larger number, and capturing three fine horses, with their equipments-several carbines and other arms; and then formed themselves in line, and returned to Camp, without the loss of a single man killed or wounded, or missing. Previous to retiring, they made every effort to draw the enemy out, or to induce pursuit, without success. It is impossible, with our present report, to mention the instances of individual prowess; but we can say, that Van Valkenburg, the Col.'s Orderly killed two. and Mr. Summerfield, private in Capt. Thomp. and took two horses and guns. He. (Summerfield) two days previous, near the same place, shot one of the enemy's pickets, and on this occasion, went to the place and hunted up his gun and brought it in also. This is the third skirmish with them, by our regiment, and has resulted in a complete success, demonstrating not only the capacity of our men for contests with them in their mountain fastnesses, but that they are not to be surpassed in bravery and indurance; having performed this feat after being expesed to a drenching rain and a forced march, for twelve hours in the night time, through a country ambushed by the enemy at almost every turn of the road. But they have kept constantly in mind our motto " To kee) cool and and a steady Yours truly.

INECMAN ATTEMPT TO MURDER .- Two or three evenings ago, while a young man named Bennett, member of Capt, Dill's company, of the Twenty-fourth Indiana Regiment, was walking backwards and forwards as sentinel outside Lafayette Park, near the entrance, he was approached by a young man who, with a friendly face, asked the sentinel if he did not feel weary, to which the soldier replied, "Yes, I do feel a little tired," when he kind faced stranger, after a word or two of farther conversation, asked him if he would not accept a piece of his pie. The sentinel thanked him with heartselt gratitude, and ate the pie. Shortly afterwards he was seized with convulsions, and was carried by his comrades to the hospital tent. Dr. Davis, the physician of the regiment, found that he was poisoned with strychnine, Remedies were at first thought to be in vain, but the young men has since lingered in agony alive.

Mr. GEORGE W. H. RIPLEY, Captain of the Randolph county company in the 8th regi-ment, is in Col. Benton's camp with his com-pany very nearly or quite full. He has recruited it from the very best material in Ran dolph county, and now has a fine a company as the 8th regiment contains. George is an old typo, and has taken hold of the military business with all the energy for which printers are proverbial. While speaking of this company, and the Sth regiment, we will say that Col. Beston will be ready to march before any of the other Colonels of the six first regi ments. He has gone about his work "with-out noise and confusion," and in an unostentatious way has got his command ready for ser ice speedily and effectually.—Ind., Jour.

MISERABLE CLOTHING.—The 24th regiment at Vincennes, were supplied with most mise able clothing. The sample articles exhibite far superior force, and, after a gallant fight of ed by the contractors were totally unlike the small and too short, and as much unlike the sample in quality as the moon is unlike green cheese .- Drawers and socks were coarse and poorly made, and too small for healthy boys of ten years growth. To give the troops such clothing as this was an infernal outrage, as the Cincinnati Commercial would say .-The auditing committee will see about the payment of the bill presented. The question at present is: How did such goods pass inspection?-Ind. Jour

Many of our citizens will remember Capt. John A. McLean, who commanded a compa ny here at Camp Whitcomb in 1846. He was from Fort Wayne, and was known to have the best drilled and disciplined company son's Co., of the 14th regiment, killed two in camp. He went to Mexico, we believe, in Col. Drake's regiment. At the commencement of the present war he raised a regiment in Erie, Penasylvania, and fought through the campaign in Western Virginia with honor and gallantry, for which we see he has been promoted to a Brigadier Generalship in Pennsylvania, and is now en route for Washington with his command.—New Albany
